ESTABLISHED FEBRUARY 7, 1884. McKINNEY, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 12, 1933.—FOUR PAGES. FIFTIETH YEAR

NEW CITY COMMISSION TOOK CHARGE WED.

FORMER M'KINNEY PEOPLE IN SAN ANTONIO

Mrs. Dan Scott of this city recently accompanied her husband, who is manager of the Southland Ice Company of this city, on a business trip to San Antonio.

While there, they visited their uncle and aunt, Gen. W. S. Scott, and wife, and other friends in the Alamo city. Gen. Scott is a brother of President L. A. Scott of the Collin County National bank and of the late S. O. Scott, father of Dan. Like his brothers, Gen. Scott was born and reared on the big farm of their parents, the late Capt. T. M. Scott and wife, an honored old pioneer couple who had a large part in the development of this new country into what it is today. Gen. Scott was a graduate of West Point and had a distinguished career as an army officer, advancing to a Brigadier-Generalship during the World War. He is now retired and living in San Antonio where his daughter, also lives, she being the wife of an army officer stationed at Fort Sam Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Scott were also pleased to find Mr. and Mrs. Wylie R. Dallas now located in San Antonio where they are the owners of the Dallas Furniture store and building up a very splendid line of patronage. Our readers will remember that Prof. Dallas was for several years head of the manual training department of the Boyd High school, this city, and later was connected with the J. P. Dowell hardware and furniture store for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott also were pleased to find Mrs. Ed Burleson, a former McKinney friend, as head nurse of the Lee Surgical Clinic of that city of which her husband is the superintendent. Mrs. Burleson was formerly Miss Jewell Hoskins of this county who is a graduate of the McKinney Hospital nurses training school. They are associated as part owners of the Lee Surgical Clinic with several successful physicians and surgeons. Two of their nurses, Miss Arnold and Miss Mattie Scrivener, are also both graduates of the McKinney hospital nurses school and are rendering valuable service in their profession.

MRS. JIM B. ASTON PASSES AWAY AT CITY HOSPITAL

Mrs. Minnie Aston, 44, wife of Jim B. Aston, residing on South College street, this city, passed away last Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the McKinney City hospital, following an illness of four weeks. Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Thursday morning April 6, at 10:30 o'clock at the Central Presbyterian church, conducted by the pastor, Dr. E. O. Whitwell. Following the services at that church the body was taken overland to Cooper for interment, with the Sam J. Massie & Son Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were: Merrell Bevers, Russell Downy, George B. Hughes, Collis Snider, Dick Faulkner and J. P. Bone.

The deceased was a member of the Methodist church.

Surviving are her husband, Jim B. Aston, and six daughters, as follows: Vera, Minnie Lee, Ava Nell, Mabel, Juanita Maurine and Ruby Monette. Surviving also are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Foster of Austin, Texas; two sisters and six brothers as follows: Mrs. Annie Crossley, Ballinger; Mrs. Ola Pierce, Kress, and Allie, Bob, Finis, John Hugh, Claude and Joe Foster, all of Anson, Texas.

The deceased and husband had resided in McKinney for many years, her husband being the proprietor of a McKinney blacksmith shop.

The "Masked Marvel," who will start Friday at the Blue Bonnet cafe, playing the piano without rest as long as he can, will be conveyed by one of the McKinney ambulances to a furniture store, where he will sleep in the window and then will take off his black mask and make a personal appearance at a Skaggsway theater. Sponsors may be ascertained by asking the different merchants if they are sponsors. A total of $20 in cash and merchandise will be given to the six most popular acts of the engagement given by the masked marvel at the Blue Bonnet cafe, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

MASS MEETING IN INTEREST OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

A. H. EUBANKS AND PROF. JACK R. RYAN SPEAKERS

Approximately 300 teachers, business men, farmers and other interested people gathered in the district courtroom here Wednesday night to attend a county-wide meeting called by County Superintendent L. Dow Hendricks.

"We are meeting here tonight, because education is at the crossroads in this state," began Superintendent Hendricks. He declared similar meetings were being called in other counties all seeking to help find ways and means of keeping the per capita apportionment from being lowered another year. If something is not done, this apportionment will likely be $8.50 in 1933-34, whereas it is $16.00 this year, having been $17.50 for the previous three years.

Principal speakers at the meeting were A. H. Eubanks, McKinney banker and school board member, and Prof. Jack R. Ryan, city superintendent of schools at McKinney.

Mr. Eubanks, in beginning, declared that there had never been such a crisis in Texas as that which confronts us today in school financial support. He went into a discussion of why the per capita was being lowered—due, in part, to the homestead law, which takes away $11,000,000; split tax payments, and failure to pay taxes by many who are unable to pay.

He declared that if the per capita tax apportionment of $8.50 is in effect next year, only six schools in Texas report they can operate nine months schools, pointing out that they are temporarily rich schools in the East Texas oil fields.

"We must find some way to raise additional funds if we are to keep our per capita apportionment," he said. "There is a need for more taxes—which makes a difficult situation, when we consider that every legislator has been elected on a platform calling for a reduction of taxes. We must think of the ability of the assessed to pay when we are thinking of taxes, after which he suggested some of our natural resources that can be assessed.

He said that two bills before the legislature in Austin, if passed, would bring in sufficient funds to keep the per capita apportionment up to standard. These are the graduated oil tax bill, which would mean some $8,000,000 to $9,000,000 for the schools of the state, and the Hughes income tax bill, which would tax only those who pay a federal income tax, who would pay to the state three-fourths of the amount they pay as a federal income tax. "These two bills would save our schools," he declared.

"If we cut our apportionment, we will go back in Texas education fifty years, and we would not get over the act for a quarter of a century. He warned that if we shut down the schools in the state to from three and one-half to five months terms, the people will rise up and demand that something be done.

He closed by urging every teacher and interested citizen to go home and write or wire their representative or else visit the legislature now in session in Austin and urge that they give us an appropriation, so we can carry on education in Texas.

In beginning his address, Prof. Jack R. Ryan, city superintendent of schools, said he wished it were possible to imbue every one with the same spirit as Mr. Eubanks. The two went to Austin last week in the interest of our schools, Mr. Eubanks needing no urging to go on such a mission. He referred in particular to the graduated tax on oil and the Hughes income tax bill and the two could be of much benefit to the schools of Texas another year. The graduated oil tax, he figured, would mean approximately $2.00 per capita apportionment for our school children, while the income tax bill would mean approximately $6.00 per capita apportionment.

"This meeting tonight is not to save our teachers; it is to save our people," Prof. Ryan declared, as he decried the fact that there is so much indifference in regard to our public schools. He commended the spirit of our teachers who have been taking cuts without a single complaint. "It is a situation that faces us."

"Go away tonight determined to get telegrams and letters to your representatives at Austin right away, so they will know the attitude of the people of Collin county in regard to our school situation," he said in closing.

At the close of the meeting, County Superintendent Hendricks handed out petitions, asking representatives of each community to take one and secure as many signatures as possible. The petition follows:

The State of Texas:
County of .....
To the Honorable 43rd Legislature:

We, the patrons, trustees and friends of public education of the Common School District No. ..... of ..... County, Texas, petition the 43rd legislature of the State of Texas to make adequate provision for rural schools next year. This can not be done unless we have at least $16.00 per capita. You and only you can do it. You must necessarily for other things and you can find it for public schools. Let it be

ROY SAUNDERS HELPING IN LAMAR COUNTY

A large one-variety cotton demonstration for Lamar county, comprising 1,100 acres in the Medill community, has been announced by A. L. Edmiaston, county agent. A gin will handle no other variety of cotton and the entire crop will be grown under supervision of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The project has been arranged through J. S. Sharpe, Bob England, farmers at Medill, members of the Red River Valley Farm Improvement Association and Roy Saunders of the Bureau of Plant Industry. Planting seed will come from the Joe Goss farm in Fannin county, where several thousand acres of one variety seed were grown last year under government supervision. These projects are a part of a general movement to improve the quality of cotton grown in the Red River Valley.

M'KINNEY WOMEN ATTEND DISTRICT FEDERATION MEET

Mesdames J. L. Lovejoy, Margie Comegys, H. A. Finch Sr., E. L. Burton and T. C. Martin went over to Denton Wednesday to attend the second day of the annual meeting of the Texas Federation of Woman's clubs.

Mrs. T. C. Martin and Mrs. J. L. Lovejoy, also of McKinney, will have part on the program. Miss Hattie Neathery of Farmersville was in the Collin county group of women having a part on the program.

Mrs. A. S. Lewis, the retiring president, gave her message Tuesday on the subject, "Civilization—a Tapestry," in which she showed how the women of today weave their part in the tapestry by helping to conserve the worthwhile things of life. She urged them to stand behind President Roosevelt and to assist in meeting the need of man for food, clothing and shelter, to encourage the arts and culture.

Ten Years' Service

By TOM W. PERKINS, Mayor

To-day, Wednesday, April 12, 1933, I close ten years of faithful, unselfish service as Mayor of McKinney, turning over the reins of that office in city government to another. This is the longest record, so it seems, of any one Mayor since the city's incorporation—more than three-quarters of a century ago.

During a part of the time, I have made many mistakes. However, I was serving the human race, from whence I came, and when the end comes I shall take my place along with other imperfect mortals in silent dust. It may have been an error or mistake when I was born—I had no choice in coming here. So, if it was, the error will be properly corrected when I shall pass on—which event, I hope, will be long delayed.

I have no regrets or apologies to offer in serving you during that long period. I gave you my best time, energies, and what ability I possessed, in the interest of all the people, whether rich or poor, high or low.

In order to be a well-liked, well-balanced and an extra popular Mayor, one has to have many different traits of character, which so few Mayors—like myself—have not. A Mayor is a Clearing House and Mat of the town. He has to help feed, clothe, aid and give assistance to the poor; to help see that they don't suffer or go hungry. This has been one of the hardest jobs I have had to fill in all my varied life. The rich and moderately well-to-do, on one side, are continually begging to keep their taxes and renditions down, while the hungry, un-fed men and women on the other side, are begging for work, or something to eat—to keep body and soul together. If you are unable to keep the taxes and renditions down, most of the larger property owners are angry at you. If you fail to feed, aid and give work to the poor down-and-outs, you are a "blowed-up Mayor." A Mayor is expected to be an orator, lobby booster, hand-shaker, hand-shaker and above all, to a tax and valuation reducer. The best plan to please all the people is to [illegible]

Whatever I have done has been without favor, prejudice or ill-will toward anyone. I have no hatred in my heart, although several sleuth hounds and character assassins have ever been on my trail. A Mayor should be courteous, just and should never carry prejudice in his heart against any constituent whom he serves. I have always tried to do this—God being my witness.

Taxation and rendition are the Mayor's hardest jobs, which he shares with the two Commissioners. Sitting, as the Chairman of the Equalization Board, which I have done at intervals for ten years, wrinkly tries a man's very soul. A man appears, says his property needs a new roof and re-painting and re-pairs and is worth less than his neighbor's. Yet, is assessed higher than his neighbor's. Here is the spot—every year—where they get the Mayor's goat. We have just had ten years of "goat-getting." Very few of the rich and wealthy have money, notes, diamonds (for taxation and rendition), and you can't get enough money in five hundred years to run McKinney from men, who work for a dollar a day and not a little more. But, the people voted the bonds (most of them forget this), and the City Commission has to get the tax money to pay them off, pay interest and running expenses of the Municipal Government.

Practically everyone voting for you expects a job, taxes and renditions lowered or some kind of favor. And, if you fail 'em, it's just too bad and when you run for re-election, they are against you—"tooth and toe-nail." Do we know this? Ten years' experience has taught us—yes.

Many people have been kind, courteous and extremely generous to me. Do I regret that I have given ten of my best years of life to our city as Mayor? I certainly do not. Some are going to remember me with kindness and affection, because I have done the best I could. Others are soon going to forget me. The Good Book says: "If you die with hatred in your heart, you go to the real burning place." Let us pray that no McKinney citizen will [illegible] there.

I leave the Mayor's office today with many pleasing memories. I fully realize that I am some years older today than when I entered the Mayor's office. My hair is [illegible] and just [illegible] many [illegible] to Pecan Grove Cemetery. I have always [illegible] a prayer

CROP PRODUCTION FARM LOAN LIMIT INCREASED

Owen W. Sherrill, regional manager of government crop production loans, announces that the $1,200 limit to tenants of a landlord in any one county has been increased to $2,000. County Farm Agent Jack McCullough is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Sherrill, which is self-explanatory, as follows:

I am pleased to inform you regarding an amendment to the "Regulations Relative to Loans for Crop Production during the year 1933," which permits the tenants of any one landlord in a single county to borrow a total of $2,000 instead of $1,200, as heretofore provided. You may give proper publicity to this information through your local press, holding in line a limit of $300.00 to one individual.

In case your county has disapproved applications due to the fact that the $1,200 landlord limit had been exceeded, and if, in your judgment, these applications warrant being resubmitted for further consideration, you may resubmit them and so advise.

At any time you are submitting a block of applications from one landlord, it is suggested that you keep them blocked together and submit them at one time, worked out with the landlord, where practical.

Very truly yours,
OWEN W. SHERRILL,
Regional Manager.

GIRLS TRACK MEET TO BE HELD AT PRINCETON

The first girls' track meet held in this county in many years will be held at Princeton Saturday, April 15, at the school there. This meet, which will be under the direction of Prof. Elborn Gantt and Coach Sonntag of the Princeton school, is for all Class B schools in the county. Many Class B schools have already sent in lists of entries and a fine meet is expected.

The meet will include dash events, short relays, weight events, employing lighter weights than the boys use, and jumping. There is an exceptionally strong interest in girls' athletics in this county and this meet will be a test of their interest. If it is successful, the plan will be put before the County Interscholastic League officials to hol da girls' track meet during the course of the county meet in the future. There are many splendid girl athletes in Collin county as was evidenced by the fine girls' basket ball teams turned out in the past three years and it is believed that girls' track meets would be very successful in all classes.

Mrs. A. P. Kerr has returned from a trip with relatives at Taylor, Texas.

R. R. Parker was here from Princeton Wednesday. Mr. Parker bought a farm near Princeton and moved on same about a year ago. He is a veteran East Collin citizen and one of the best posted men that we know of in the county. He is a Spanish-American war veteran who was badly wounded in the land battle at Manila.

Mayor Joe E. Largent Asks Cooperation of McKinney People

McKinney's Official Family Now Includes Joe E. Largent, Mayor; Add G. Wilson And C. M. Bryan, Commissioners.

The new City Commission, composed of Mayor Joe E. Largent and Commissioners Add G. Wilson and C. M. Bryan, took over the reins of municipal government at 10 o'clock last Wednesday morning in the presence of a large gathering of friends in the Firemen's meeting room at the City Hall.

Retiring Mayor Perkins opened the meeting and called on Dr. Clifford S. Weaver, pastor of the First Christian church, for prayer.

Out-going and in-coming officers were seated in a group, including Mayor Perkins, Mayor-Elect Largent, Commissioners C. M. Bryan and Roy Brockman and Commissioner-Elect Add G. Wilson and City Secretary G. Frank Wolford.

Mayor Perkins called on Commissioner Bryan, who was re-elected to serve for another term of two years, who thanked the citizenship of McKinney for the confidence and co-operation that has been given during the past two years. "It has been a great pleasure to serve with Mayor Perkins and Commissioner Brockman and a tie has bound us all together in such a way that it will be difficult to be broken. To the incoming Mayor and Commissioner, I feel that the same co-operation will be given." He concluded with a plea for continued working together of all citizens of McKinney for a better city in which to live.

Mayor Perkins called on Commissioner Roy L. Brockman, who declared that he had done the best he knew how, congratulating the city employes and the citizenship for the co-operation that has been extended. He closed his talk by congratulating the new Commission, urging every one to fall in line and back them as they did the old administration of the past two years.

In a brief talk, Mayor Perkins told his hearers that this closes ten years of service for him as Mayor of McKinney, however, not consecutively. "I have made many mistakes, of course," he said, "yet they have been of the head and not of the heart. I retire with no hatred in my heart for any man, and I congratulate our citizenship on the selection of such capable officers." He declared that being Mayor of any city tries the soul of man, but that he trusted a kindly providence would be as kind to his successor as He has been kind to him during his tenure of office. He thanked all employes of the city, many of whom he declared were serving when he came into office, and were still working in the interest of McKinney.

He closed by asking Rev. J. Ben Snider, Baptist minister, to dismiss the meeting.

Retiring Mayor Perkins and Commissioner Brockman extended congratulations and best wishes to the new City Commission.

"I want to thank the people of McKinney for the confidence that they have reposed in me," began Mayor Joe E. Largent, in his speech of acceptance. I want to thank Mayor Perkins and Commissioner Brockman for their kind words and good wishes in our behalf. I promise to give the best that is in me while I am in office, and I feel that the people have made no mistake when they have selected such men as Commissioners Wilson and Bryan to serve with me."

Mayor Largent urged our citizenship to bring their problems to the Commission, and he believes they could find some solution for each question that may arise.

"I realize that we have a multitude of problems before us, but I assure you we will do everything in our power, in your behalf, and we ask for your continued loyalty, support and patience."

An appreciation of the complimentary vote given him was expressed by Commissioner Add G. Wilson. "Two years ago I was a loser, and I hope I can be as good a winner as I was a loser, then."

"With these two men serving with me, I feel that the citizenship of McKinney can rest assured that all interests will be well taken care of. I see no reason why conditions should not be improved in the future, and I would urge that we roll up our sleeves and work together for the best interests of McKinney."

Dr. Clifford S. Weaver, pastor of the First Christian Church, was called upon by Mayor Largent for a few words. He declared that he was the pastor of both the out-going and in-coming Mayor, and he invoked the blessings of God on both, as well as the entire official families. "On occasions of this kind we have mixed feelings, but I am sure the incoming commission will serve as efficiently and well as the out-going group. We can not please everybody and all I know to do, is do best we can.

Mayor Largent called on Commissioner Bryan for a few words, who, in turn, recognized Mrs. Largent, wife of the Mayor, who was present, but who graciously declined an invitation to say a few words with the expression, "not a public speaker."

The meeting closed with [illegible] by Dr. Weaver.

BOB ERWIN'S COMPANY HAS OWN OIL FIELD

The Southland Life Insurance company today informed its local representative, R. D. Erwin, at McKinney, that his company is the first in America to own a complete oil field.

The property on which the field is situated was acquired several years ago and is three miles southeast of Waleetka, Okla. The field recently was given far more potential value when an old well was drilled deeper into the pay sand. There are now seven wells, five of which are producers and two nearly completed.

The Southland Life owns 2,280 acres, of which 400 are under lease to oil companies, including the Texas company. About 1,600 acres are included in the probabilities as producing territory. It is likely that some time in the near future a test well will be [illegible] in the Seven Wells sand.

EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

Every citizen should be proud of his home city—and McKinneyites you should be doubly proud of our "Magnificent McKinney."

The people of Texas are not yet ready to turn every soda fountain and filling station into a beer saloon.—Farmersville Times.

Edson R. Waite in his feature, "Did You Ever Stop To Think," says that the man who lives for himself alone and has no consideratoin for his neighbors doesn't really live. He is just fooling himself. He merely exists.

The Ladonia News spoke some of the truest words of all time when it said, "A small town is a fine place in which to live. A fellow has to go straight or his neighbors will know all about it." That's why we like to live in small towns. It helps curb unworthy instincts and tendencies.

Readers of the Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette are the most substantial people of McKinney and Collin county. They scan the advertising columns of these papers for shopping guidance and help in their buying problems.

Miss Lola Blair, nutritionist in the extension service at Texas A. & M. College, says that home meat canning should not be attempted in most parts of Texas after April has passed and not even that late unless the weather is cool. Unless meat is handled in a perfectly sanitary way and kept away from flies, the danger of spoilage is very great.

Differences have arisen about nearly everything, but it is nonsense to give up and quit. Be conscientious in what you think is best and right and then be true to yourself by living up to it until you are convinced of your mistake. In that event it is manly to acknowledge your error and then be courageous enough to change your position.

In our Twenty-Five Year Ago feature on March 25, an item stated that the Owl Club had just installed its new president, Mrs. L. C. Clifton, and its new vice-president, Mrs. H. L. Davis. It is an interesting coincidence that now, twenty-five years afterwards, these same cultured McKinney ladies have been installed in the same official capacities by the Owls for the ensuing year. The Owl Club is one of the oldest women's clubs in the state—now in its fortieth year.

A beer celebration was staged at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, at midnight, April 6. This editor happened to be listening in on his radio to the event at the time. The announcer in beginning solemnly vowed that the crowd of celebrants was orderly and not in the least bit intoxicated. But, we noticed that his voice was almost entirely drowned out by raucuous shouts and whooping that proved beyond a doubt the new 3.2 beer is as dynamic as dandelion wine, Choctaw beer, or any of the old time familiar brews whose names sound like "Heaven to ye olde topers" who smack their lips at the very thought. Beware, Texas, beer is only a stepping stone to the old saloon and the lowering of morals, degradation of those who drink it and the end of law enforcement generally. "Beer" and alleged greater "temperance" by its coming are too rediculous for sane people to believe.

We doubt very much if there is a surplus of competent instructors for the school children of Texas—those adequately prepared in advanced education and training such as is afforded by our seven state teachers colleges of the state. One way of reducing waste in education is by eliminating the poorly prepared teachers from the school room. As has been said, a surplus of failures in other vocations and professions have resurrected their old teaching permits and returned to the school room in order to get a meal ticket. These should be eliminiated. In our opinion, our teacher colleges should be maintained to give the ambitious young men and women of the state, opportunity to secure a college education and prepare themselves for positions in life with many times greater chances of success awaiting them than could be had without a college education. Let's give our fine boys and girls every opportunity possible.

LEADING TO PROSPERITY.

The decline in values of farm products, stocks, bonds and realty holdings means that borrowers are compelled to repay their debts in greatly appreciated dollars as compared with the dollar they originially borrowed. This is a heavy millstone that is sinking multiplied thousands of our fellow citizens in financial ruin. In discussing this subject, Edson R. Waite, says that the present paradox of economic distress in the midst of plenty has been interpreted by many as a sign that the capitalistic system is facing disaster. This view is combated by reference to the phenomenon known as a trade cycle.

A true historical prospective disclosed that the existing depression must lead on to a measure of prosperity greater than the world has ever known. The sad part of this view, however, is that the slump has diverted out of the possession of the average citizen, by the process of depreciated values, the savings of a life-time and accordingly when the period of prosperity makes its appearance, he has, as it were, to

WOULD AID RAILROADS.

Now that the bill sponsored by Representative Sam Rayburn of Texas to repeal the recapture clause in the transportation act of 1920 has been approved by the house interstate commerce commission, congress surely will speedily enact it, and thus take an unnecessary and unjustifiable burder off the railroads.

Repeal of that measure already has the indorsement of those best qualified to pass on its merits and demerits. The interestate commerce commission months ago recommended that the clause be taken out of the act. Later the national transportation committee, headed by the late Calvin Coolidge, recommended the clause's repeal.

With such support as that for repeal, there should be no further delay in action.

To get rid of the act would relieve the railroads of a claim against them by the government of many millions of dollars alleged to be due under the terms of the recapture clause which provide that "excess profits" be returned to the government, and would release considerable sums some of the roads have already paid in. That money would come in handy for the roads now.

The recapture scheme has been proved unworkable, as well as unjust, and a way should be made for a feasible and fair method of regulation.—Houston Post.

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGES.

That the teachers colleges of Texas are performing well a distinctive and superior service is well attested by superintendents, school-boards, and teachers in every part of the state. Contrary to certain printed statements of recent months, the facilities of these institutions for service in their specialized fields are vastly superior to those of other institutions. Their faculties are superior because of their experience in the public schools for which they prepare teachers and because of their specialized training for the teaching of teachers. Their plants are superior for teacher training purposes because they have been constructed with a definite professional objective in view and have been adapted to the purposes for which they were created. The atmosphere of the Teachers College is surcharged with the idea of teaching, just as that of the Medical College is permeated with the idea of healing the sick. The definite vocational objective is held before all the students all the time. This fact bears fruit in purposeful effort to prepare for superior service in a chosen profession. It motivates endeavour, it intensifies effort, it clarifies ideals, it makes for longer and better service in the common schools, and tends to develop a real profession of teaching as against the use of the schoolroom as a by-path to law, medicine, insurance, or what-not.

That these institutions, through the work they do in preparing teachers, make considerable contribution to the cultural life of our people is rightly to be expected. That in doing this they duplicate results at other institutions is a fact which should be commended rather than condemned, for the public's appetite is none too keen for the intellectual and spiritual values of life. Teachers Colleges ought to be centers of culture, in addition to performing the technical function of placing in the hands of young teachers the skills and techniques of modern education; and, they ought not to be accused of duplicating the work of the liberal arts college if, in the discharge of their own function, they use some of the same tools and get some of the same results as characterize the work of these other institutions. But it cannot be reiterated too often that the thing that makes the teachers college distinctive is its specialized function; that it has adhered to this function consistently and is setting the pace today in educational progress; that while a certificated teacher is a by-product of other institutions of higher learning a qualified teacher is the major output of the teachers college; and that the other services rendered by the teachers college are in the nature of by-products and do not represent a social waste.—Dr. J. A. Hill, former President Texas State Teachers Association.

W. H. SHAW'S CASH GROCERY AND MARKET

OFTEN YOU HEAR some one say' I like so much to trade at Shaw's Cash Grocery and Market because you get such nice fresh meats, eggs, and my some of the best fresh country butter and it's so nice and clean. Such nice fresh fruits and vegetables. You can always get most anything you want in that one store and if they haven't got what you want they'll get it for you and their prices are so low on everything. The personnel of their store: J. W. McFerrin, Ernest Edwards, Ben Henry, Taylor, Royce and W. H. (Bill) Shaw. All experienced courteous help and they sure will appreciate your business and friendship. C. & T. GROCERY STORE ADDING TO ATTRACTIVENESS

The C. & T. Grocery, located on Church street, is being rendered more neat appearing and attractive these early spring days by some improvements in the way of repainting and the addition of some new canvass awnings clear across the whole front of their pretty store. Jim Webb Harrison did the painting.

The C. & T. grocery proprietors, Roy Caldwell and J. J. Thompson, are two of McKinney's most successful and worthy young business men. They have been partners in this business for about twelve years during which time they have more strongly entrenched themselves in the good will and patronage of the grocery buying public in both city and country. They give their business their full time and personal attention and never miss an issue of this paper with their helpful advertisements.

They strongly believe in in McKinney, in her good people and in her bright future. They reinvest their earnings right here in the town, thereby helping to build it up and also benefit the surrounding country and contribute their full part for the common good.

Such firms and merchants are real town builders and country supporters.

Sam Apple, veteran McKinney dairyman, was in Dallas Friday on business.

CONFERENCE NOTES

Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Mood of Decatur attended the conference. Dr. Mood is presiding elder of the Decatur district. For four years, he held that same position in the McKinney district and for three years served as pastor of the McKinney First church. Mrs. Mood led the memorial service conference on Wednesday afternoon. She was lovingly greeted by a multitude of McKinney friends and others from all over the North Texas coference. She is a former official of the conference. While here, Mrs. Mood is the guest of her daughter, Miss Sue Mood, who has apartments in the home of Mrs. W. E. Ditto, just across the street from the First church parsonage. The daughter is one of the English teachers in the McKinney High school.

Mrs. Avis Cook Astin of Gainesville was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. S. Walker Wednesday evening. She has been here the past two days attending the Methodist W. M. S. conference which was in session in this city.

Judge and Mrs. Wallace Hughston entertained several of the ladies who attended the conference. They were Mrs. W. W. Jones and Mrs. D. B. Doha, both of Sulphur Springs Mrs. M. L. Armstrong of Plano and Mesdames Fred Pendleton, G. C. French and H. McMillan, all of Dallas.

Mrs. Francis, of the Trinity Heights Methodits church, Dallas, was a guest in the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. F. Houston here while attending the conference sessions.

Mrs. Rene H. Cox, Mrs. Baron Deeley and Mrs. Victoria Brooks, all of Dallas, attended the Methodist conference. They were guests in the home of Dr. J. A. Caldwell.

Mrs. E. R. McBride and Mrs. Lee Morris of Chico, Texas, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Caldwell. They were here attending the North Texas W. M. S. conference at the First Methodist church.

Mrs. C. P. Heard had as her guests during the W. M. S. conference here, Mrs. Stokes of Garland, Mrs. Malone and Miss Clayton, both of Dallas.

Rev. W. N. Vernon, pastor of the Carrollton Methodist church attended the annual meeting of the conference here and was a guest in Walter B. Wilson's home. Rev. Mr. Vernon was reared in Southeast Collin and Rockwall counties, being a son of the late I. N. Vernon and a nephew of the late Editor Sam N. Vernon, who owned and edited papers at Farmersville and Comanche, and who once served as president of the Texas Press association. Rev. W. N. Vernon's mother was a Warden, being a member of the noted Warden family of early settlers in this county.

One of our state's most distinguished women, Mrs. Dr. John S. Turner of Dallas attended the conference, being a guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Martin. Mrs. Turner has the distinction of having served seven consecutive years as president of the North Texas annual conference of the Woman's Missionary society. She has led a life of eminent leadership in church, civic and philanthropic enterprises of our state.

Mrs. Oscar Broks and Mrs. C. W. Milner, both of Allen, attended the conference Wednesday as interested spectators and influential workers in church circles of Allen and community. Mrs. H. B. Butler and Mrs. A. A. Humphreys were delegates from the Allen charge, attending every service.

Rev. F. Lamar McGown, pastor of the Allen church and also Blythe's Chapel, two very excellent Methodist charges, regularly attended the conference. Also, Mrs. McGown, who is a most valuable assistant in his ministerial work, came with him. They are interested readers of The Daily Courier-Gazette and say that reading their home county daily every issue keeps them in touch with county and community affairs that is very helpful to them in their work and life.

Mrs. H. H. Hudsbeth of Dallas, a delegate, was entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Martin.

Mrs. Virgil R. Walker and Mrs. Edwin A. Morrison, delegates from the First Methodist church, Dallas, were guests in the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Caldwell.

Mrs. Williams of Decatur, Texas, attended the conference and while here renewed acquaintances with her dear friend, Mrs. Davis, mother of Mrs. Bob Gordon, the gents' furnishing merchant. Mrs. Williams, although in her eighties, is yet quite active both mentally and physically and a devout church worker. She is the mother of ex-Congressman Guwyn Williams of Decatur.

Mrs. J. Sam Barcus of Sulphur Springs was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tip Parnell. Mrs. Barcus spent three happy years in McKinney during the pastorate of her husband of the First church, the host church of the conference this year. It was under the Rev. [illegible] that the [illegible]

Mrs. Grady Fletcher, 2205 Grant street, Wichita Falls, Texas, was a delegate from the Grant Street Methodist church of that city of which Rev. T. H. Osborne, formerly of Prosper, is now pastor. We were much pleased to learn that Rev. Mr. Osborne has recovered his health and is receiving converts and new members to his church at every service this year so far. Mrs. Fletcher is the daughter of Former District Judge J. W. Akin of Graham, Texas. She was a guest of Mrs. Walter B. Wilson during the conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Warden have one of the prettiest homes and adjacent yard surroundings to be found in McKinney. They never fail to assist in dispensing hospitality and welcome to visitors at conventions and conferences within the gates of their home city. They are active officials and workers in the First Presbyterian church, who gladly welcomed two delegates into their home during the conference. Their guests were Mrs. N. Babb and Mrs. A. A. Miller, both of Denton. Mrs. Babb is a sister of F. F. Wiggs, formerly a prominent McKinney business man, but now of Helena, Ark. Mr. Warden is active vice president of the Collin County National bank at McKinney and one of our city's most highly-respected and influential business men and citizens.

Mrs. S. J. Ayres, delegate from the Hutchins church, Dallas county, was a guest of Mrs. Walter B. Wilson and Mrs. Florence Warden during the conference.

Rev. E. L. Wright and wife and Mrs. Sam Ayres of Hutchins, Dallas county, attended the conference Wednesday.

Mrs. E. H. McDonald of Paris attended the Methodist W. M. S. conference here, being a guest in the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Burton. Miss Leila Roberts of Bonham, who is a missionary from Mexico, was also a guest in the Burton home.

Mrs. Dr. E. L. Burton, president of the Woman's Missionary society of the First church, McKinney, extended the welcome address at the opening of the conference. Her official position in the local society gave her many heavy duties during the conference in helping to provide homes and leading in the dispensation of every courtesy that a host city could be expected to give.

Mrs. Gibson Caldwell, pipe organist and choir leader of the host church, and her well-trained choir contributed much to the success of the conference by their inspiring music and singing. Mrs. Caldwell's husband, who is president of the Collin County Mill & Elevator company, is a steward, and like, his wife, has an active part in carrying along church work of all kinds in the city.

Mrs. R. F. Bryant, wife of a Dallas Methodist preacher, attended the conference Wednesday and was a guest of her girlhood friends, Mrs. Walter B. Wilson and Mrs. Florence Warden. Mrs. Bryant was born and reared in this county, being formerly Miss Josie Davis, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Davis, a pioneer couple, first of Rhea's Mill, and later of McKinney during the last twenty-five years of their lives. She always feels more at home in McKinney than anywhere else.

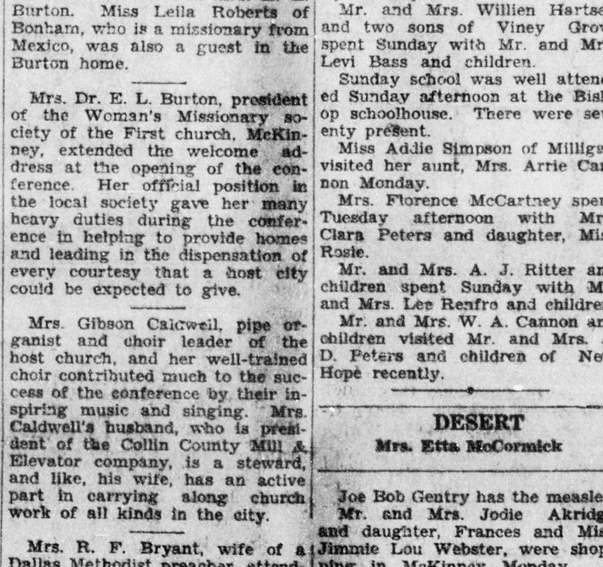
Benediction.



Winter's spell is shaken. The earth awakens. From the sun comes a warmth that instills new life in the brook and the meadow, in the tree, the vine and the hedge. Soon the entire landscape, only a few short days ago so cold and dreary under its mantle of white, will be dotted with Nature's most colorful blossoms. And listen! What's that we hear overhead? Ah, the welcome chirp of our feathered friends back from the southland, heralding the return of Spring.

Th greetings of Easter Season to our friends and customers.

CORN COMING UP AND COTTON PLANTING BEGINS

L. L. Derryberry, a tenant on the old Major John A. Buck farm, three miles southwest of McKinney, says that his corn is coming up to a fairly good stand, and he is now about ready to commence planting cotton. He will probably plant his cotton sometime next week if the weather and soil should be favorable. Some cotton is already planted.

He is renting the farm from Dr. Ben F. Largent, its present owner. Mr. Derryberry says that he has twenty-five acres of fall sown oats that came through the February severe freeze with a fairly good stand. This is rather an exception, because the most of the fall sown oats and volunteer oats were killed by that freeze.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Garves and son, Chas. Jr., accompanied by Misses Elnora Horn, Mary Beth Holmes and Jennie Marie Wilson, were in Fort Worth Tuesday night to attend the T. C. U. student drama, "Romeo and Juliet," in which Miss Rebecca Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Graves, had the leading role of Juliet. The play proved a big success and was witnessed by a large audience.

Mrs. Jim Kimbriel returned Tuesday evening from San Antonio, where she spent the past week visiting her husband and sons who reside there. Mr. Kimbriel is conducting a business in San Antonio. Their sons, John and Oran Kimbriel and families also reside there, where they are connected with big wholesale fruit and vegetable houses.

ENJOYED VISIT TO OLD AUNT AT FOREST GROVE

Gabe Kerby, local business man, drove down to Forest Grove Sunday afternoon to visit his aged aunt, Mrs. Sidney Kerby, widow of the late W. D. Kerby, who lives on her old home place in that community and is being tenderly cared for in her old days and feebleness by her son, Tom Kerby, and wife and her two daughters, Mrs. Smith and Miss Nell Kerby, a school teacher. Gabe was accompanied by F. C. Thompson, one of the editors of the Examiner, a long-time friend of Mrs. Kerby. They found this dear old soul, cheerful and happy as usual. She and her husband were pioneer settlers of that community where she has lived three-quarters of a century. Her life has been one of constant service to her family, her neighbors and her church. She has always made the world better and brighter about her. Editor Thompson state's that it was a refreshing joy to be in her presence again.

ALLEN TEACHERS RE-ELECTED FOR ANOTHER YEAR

Prof. Paul Henderson, superintendent of the Allen school, was a visitor in McKinney Saturday and while here dropped by this office. He tells us that the Allen school is about to wind up a successful year and that all teachers have been re-elected to serve next year, as follows:

Prof. Paul Henderson, superintendent.
Miss Gladys Duff, principal.
Mrs. Glenn Scott, seventh grade.
Mrs. Edward Bolger, sixth grade.
Miss Doyse Beene, fourth and fifth grades.
Miss Gladys Watson, second and third grades.
Miss Vivian Compton, first grade.

IMPORTANCE OF TERRACING WORK IN THIS COUNTY

According to figures furnished by the U. S. Census and Extension Service reports, there are 561,920 acres of land in Collin county and of this total, 59,000 acres have been terraced. This means that only about 10 per cent of the total acreage in this county has been terraced, yet this amount of terracing is worth $419,300 to the county. Farmers and agriculture leaders all over Texas have come to a definite conclusion that by terracing a piece of land it increases the value at least $7.00 per acre.

We have left in this county about 421,440 acres that needs terracing and we have been terracing on an average of about 5,000 acres per year. At this rate we will complete the job in 84 more years or in 2017 A. D., according to County Farm agent Jack McCullough.

Those who own land should not let it wash away, but should terrace it so that the oncoming generations will find it in as good condition as they found it. It isn't right for this generation to let the oncoming generations suffer because of their neglect. Each generation should let go the soil in no worse condition than they received it.

MRS. MATTHEWS WRITES ABOUT EARTHQUAKE

A letter received by a McKinney friend of Mrs. W. H. Matthews, 1624 East Broadway, Long Beach California, stated that her property there sustained some damage, although her houses were not moved from their foundations in the recent earthquake. Her principal damage was in the way of broken windows, plaster and falling chimneys, amounting to several hundred dollars. However, she is thankful that she and her family escaped uninjured and no more serious damage was sustained than did happen. It was a terrible rocking and a thrilling experience which she hopes she may not have to experience again.

Mrs. Matthews and her deceased husband lived in McKinney for a number of years during which time he owned and operated the big Matthews Bros. Dry goods store. She still owns porperty in McKinney.

L. L. Derryberry, a farmer living near McKiney, shipped the head of a house cat to Austin, Friday evening, to have it analyzed by the Pasteur Institute to ascertain whether it was afflicted with rabies. It had bitten Mr. Derryberry's little five year old son, two or three days ago. It later showed some symptoms that might have been hydrophobia and Friday morning it was found under the barn, dead. Dr. Ben F. Largent advised him that as a matter of precaution for the safety of the life of his child, to send the cat head to the Pasteur Institute for analysis. If the cat had [illegible] the child will be given [illegible]

DR. GRAHAM FRANK OF DALLAS IS SPEAKER AT FIRST CHRISTIAN PRAYER AND PRAISE SERVICE

Dr. Graham Frank, pastor of the Central Christian church in Dallas, was the principal speaker at the mid-week prayer service of the First Christian church Wednesday night, beginning at 6:30 o'clock. In the absence of Dr. Clifford S. Weaver, beloved pastor of the church, who was called to Denver, Colo., because of a fatal auto accident to his brother-in-law, Dr. E. G. Brazier, the meeting was in charge of Joe E. Largent, chairman of the board of the First Christian church.

Dr. Frank, in beginning his wonderful address, paid a tribute to the absent pastor as well as to his wife who was present. He also thanked the women of the church for the splendid banquet provided for the occasion.

Dr. Frank is an unusually gifted and forceful speaker, who skillfully intermingled humor with serious thoughts, producing an effect that held his audience spellbound. His talk was a brief resume of the sermon he delivered last Sunday to his congregation, taken from the fifteenth chapter of St. John. He took for his text, "For Without Me Ye Can Do Nothing."

The First Christian dining room, located in the basement of the educational building, was filled with members and visitors, seated around the banquet tables. The delicious repast was served by a group of women of the church, of which Mrs. C. E. Melton was chairman.

Some old-time congregational singing was enjoyed by the large crowd, ably directed by Mrs. Joe E. Largent with Mrs. Joe Anderson at the piano. Elder R. C. Horn, who with his wife, was present at this enjoyable affair, was called upon to lead in prayer. Benediction was pronounced by Chas. W. Graves, Sunday school superintendent of that church.

Message From Dr. Weaver.

Mrs. Weaver, beloved wife of the pastor of the church, was called upon by Mr. Largent for a few words. She read a telegram received from her husband while en route to Denver, Colo. Dr. Weaver, together with his two sisters, Mrs. Dr. Shoemaker, of Fort Worth, and Mrs. W. P. Claypoole, of Houston, were forced to remain in Norman, Okla., Tuesday night because of the hailstorm, proceeding on to Oklahoma City early Wednesday morning. They expected to arrive in Denver last night. Dr. Weaver met his sisters in Denton, being accompanied to that city by Ernest Wilson, member of his church and an employe of the federal postoffice in this city.

On motion of Mr. Largent, the congregation of the church voted unanimously to send a message of condolence to Dr. Weaver, the message being prepared and sent early Thursday by Messrs. Largent and F. Carlie Thompson, on behalf of members of Dr. Weaver's congregation and many friends.

Dr. Frank declared that he did not know what the churches would do without the women, as he referred to the splendid banquet which so many members of the First Christian church, as well as visitors had enjoyed. He appreciated seeing so many children and young people present. "Children often get a distaste for the church and religion, that is difficult to overcome," he said as he related some of his own experiences. "The church should be a happy place for all young people."

Challenging Words.

Stressing the importance of his text, "For Without Me Ye Can Do Nothing," Dr. Frank said: "Those are challenging words. It would be well for each one of us to sit down quietly and look at this text. Civilization has never reached a more degrading level than now, resulting from a violation of the sacredness of life for a few paltry dollars—a time where the average man is a mere pawn, dictated to by others."

The speaker referred to a series of sermons he had been delivering the past fall and winter as he took certain scriptures from the Bible and placed them against the background of life today. "The regrettable fact is that people think that they can get along without Jesus Christ. Cities are built, institutions are constructed, with no reference at all to Christ Jesus.

"No man anywhere can get along very well without Jesus Christ—I believe that with all my mind. That was what Jesus meant when he said: 'For Without Me Ye Can Do Nothing.'" Dr. Frank decried the fact that thousands of our people never enter a church door. They assume they can get along without the church. However, those people whose lives are blessed by Christ and the church and who do not acknowledge it, would be the first to desert a community if the churches were moved out. No civilization can get along without God.

At this point the speaker painted a vivid picture of this city, county, state and nation at this time without the influence of the church. He also asked what would have been the result had we taken Jesus out of it since his birth. Answering his own question, he said that there would be no churches, no cathedrals.

"What would happen to the literature of the world if we were to take Him out of the pages?

"What would happen to the music of the world?

"What would happen to the art of the world? A visit to any of the great art galleries reveals that the collections are almost a total inspiration of the Saviour. There would be no prayers, no words of comfort and no consecration of the blessings of Heaven in the marriage vows.

"What would happen to the songs of the world?" he asked as he stressed the influence of Jesus in our music today.

Have Forgotten Christ.

Dr. Frank declared that the curse of our own civilization is that we have nearly forgotten Jesus Christ. We find civilization crumbling about us and the tragedy is that many of us are assuming that we can rebuild it without Him.

The speaker mentioned, in closing, Paul's letter to the Philippians while he was a prisoner in Rome, who wrote, "Not that I speak in respect of want, for I have learned that in whatsoever state I am, there to be content. I have learned I can do all things through Jesus Christ who strengtheneth me."

He closed by making a stirring appeal to those present to bring other people to the living Christ.

Collin Couple Wed Saturday At Durant

Miss Winona Littlejohn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Littlejohn of the Woodlawn community, and Prof. Allan McMillan, teacher of the Woodlawn school for the past two years, were married at Durant, Oklahoma, Saturday, April 1, 1933, at the parsonage home of Rev. J. M. Rickerson, pastor of the Baptist church, there.

The bride was a McKinney High school girl, only sixteen years old. Her husband is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley McMillan of Clearlake, about fifteen miles southeast of McKinney. The young couple have gone to housekeeping in apartments at Commerce where the groom is attending the East Texas State Teachers College after the close of his school at Woodlawn, a few days ago. He is ambitious to finish his college education.

This marriage unites two prominent Collin county families. These editors join in felicitations to the happy young couple.

Mrs. M. F. Wheeler left Monday in company with her son, Amber Wheeler, and wife for an extended trip to South Texas. She will likely visit the Rio Grande Valley, Corpus Christi and Houston on the trip.

GIVES AWAY CANE SEED TO COLLIN FARMERS

W. L. Jetton and wife and two little daughters, Doris Jane and Dorothy Sue, the latter only six weeks old, were business visitors in McKinney this week. While here, Mr. Jetton dropped by this office to chat with the editors. He tells us that he now has on hand on his farm in the Franklin Schoolhouse community a limited supply of Goldenrod Cane seed, from which he makes fine cane syrup each year. The cane can be made into an excellent sorghum syrup, and Mr. Jetton says that he is willing and prepared to give away a limited supply of this cane seed to any Collin farmer who desires it and who will call at his place for same. Mr. Jetton vouches for this cane, saying that it will make a wonderful brand of syrup.

Mr. Jetton's liberality in giving this syrup cane seed away is to be commended, and all those who wish it may drop by and secure same from him without a penny's cost if you want to plant it.

Mr. Jetton is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Jetton of Westminster, while his wife is the daughter of Mrs. W. J. Baxter, of the Bloomdale community.

Mr. Jetton informs us that he has a good stand of corn already up now. He will plant cotton within the next few days.

FORMER WYLIE CITIZEN BURIED THERE TUESDAY

Edward Eugene English, a former citizen of Wylie, died in Mineral Wells, Monday, March 27, which place had been his home for the past ten years. His death followed a major operation. Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church here by Rev. E. F. Lancaster, with burial in the Wylie cemetery.

Mr. English was born March 15, 1872, at Memphis, Tenn., coming to Texas when a lad of sixteen years. He was married to Hattie Elsie Streece at Abilene. He was a devout member of the Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. English lived in Wylie some twenty-one years ago, and are well remembered by the older citizens. Mrs. English is a relative of Messrs. Jess and George Kreymer and Mrs. George Hughes. The immediate relatives are his wife, Mrs. Elsie English, and one step-daughter, Mrs. Vivian Hill Jenkins of Greenville.

Pallbearers were Messrs. E. Housewright, Ed Spurgin, Homer and Lee Burch, Fred Gallagher and Leeton Hillis.—Wylie Herald.

Special Rates Over Interurban For April 16

C. W. Redell, local agent for the Texas Electric Railway company, announces that his company will have special rates on Sunday, April 16, for round trips from McKinney to Dallas on the interurban, the round-trip rate on that date being only 75 cents. You may purchase a ticket and go down Sunday, returning that day or on Monday, April 17. This low rate is due to the opening day ball game between the Dallas Steers and Fort Worth Cats to be played in Dallas on that date.

Children's rates from McKinney are 40 cents for the round trip. Allen and Plano will enjoy the same rates as McKinney, while Melissa and Anna will have rates of $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Mrs. Dr. W. S. Wysong is visiting relatives in the city of Houston for a few days.

AGENT TELLS HOW TO MAKE WHOLE WHEAT CRACKERS

Housewives who have been making American cheese are also interested in the making of crackers in the home. Miss Helen Dunlap, county home Demonstration club agent, gives the following recipes which are made by the department of agriculture at Washington:

◆ ◆ ◆

Whole Wheat Crackers.

2 cups finely ground whole wheat
3 tablespoons solid fat
1 teaspoon salt
6-7 tablespoons water.

Mix dry ingredients and cut in the fat with a biscuit cutter. Add sufficient water to make a stiff dough. Roll the dough into a thin sheet. Cut into squares (3 in. by 3 in.) and bake at 450 degrees F. Makes about 20 crackers. White flour may be substituted for one-half the ground whole wheat, if desired.

◆ ◆ ◆

Whole Wheat Crackers.

2 cups finely ground whole wheat
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons solid fat
6 tablespoons water
3 tablespoons sugar
1-4 teaspoon soda
2 tablespoons molasses.

Mix dry ingredients and cut in the fat with a biscuit cutter. Mix the molasses and water and stir into the dry ingredients. Spread the mixture on to a baking sheet. Cut into squares (3 in. by 3 in.) and bake at 425 degrees F.

Old Confederate veterans were honorary pall bearers.

Born May 14, 1838.

Frank Marion Hunn was born, May 14, 1838, in Lincoln county, Kentucky, being a son of Dr. Anthony Hunn and Polly (Feland) Hunn. When the deceased was only 6 years old, his parents moved to Butler, Mo., in 1844, where they lived for six years and then in 1850 came to Texas, landing at Bonham in Fannin county, where the deceased attended school. The family, after several years, returned to Missouri again, where Dr. Anthony Hunn died in 1858. The family returned to Texas about the close of the Civil war and settled on the farm, just across the road south of the old homeplace of the late Tom H. Muse, about three miles northwest of town, where his mother died in 1882.

Confederate Soldier.

F. M. Hunn served in Johnson's company of spies and then Patton's regiment, General Raines' division being elected lieutenant of the company later, and serving as captain during the remainder of the war. He fought in the battles at Wilson Creek, Carthage, Lexington and other fights and skirmishes and as stated above returned to Texas at the close of the war.

Married in 1868.

On May 7, 1868, he was united in marriage to Miss Cynthia Ann Dunn, first white girl baby born in Collin county after it was organized. She was the daughter of Tola Dunn, the first county clerk of Collin county. Her mother was Miss Sally McGarrah, daughter of Capt. Jack McGarrah, who settled at old Buckner and was its first merchant, three miles west of McKinney, which was the first county seat of Collin county, holding that distinction from the time the county was created in 1846 to 1848, when the townsite was moved to the present olcation of McKinney and this town was established. His good wife died Jan. 20, 1906.

Father of 13 Children.

Six sons and three daughters survive him: Clay Hunn, Boyd, Texas; Lud Hunn, Pilot Point, Texas; Jim Hunn, San Antonio; Wood Hunn, living about four miles northwest of McKinney; Barney Hunn, of Celina; Joe Hunn, of Little Elm; Mrs. Wheatley, wife of former District Clerk A. S. Wheatley, McKinney; Mrs. George Cole, of Pilot Point, and Mrs. Pete Younger of McKinney, with whom he made his home and who so devotedly cared for him in his old age and feebleness.

He is also survived by thirty-two grandchildren, a number of great-grandchildren and by two great-great-grandchildren. He is also survived by one brother, Lee Hunn, 78 years old, of Wichita Falls, Texas. He was one of five brothers and sisters. One of his sisters was Mrs. W. A. (Austin) Hall, who died three years ago. Another was Mrs. Jack Mack of near McKinney, who died twenty-seven years ago and who was a school teacher of the county. His brother, Jim Hunn, also died at McKinney twenty-one years ago.

One County's Oldest Citizens.

Frank M. Hunn was one of the oldest citizens, not only of the county but also of the state. He first came to Texas eighty-three years ago, as stated above and settled at Bonham, when he was only 12 years old and returned to Missouri some years later, but again came back to Texas and settled in Collin about sixty-seven years ago. He lived practically all of his married life on his farm north of McKinney. He was a man of jovial disposition, not given to worry and believed in taking life as easy as possible. He was exceedingly friendly by nature, thought a great deal of his friends and old army comrades. He was an active member of Throckmorton Camp, United Confederate veterans, as long as he was able to attend. He joined the Christian church at Butler, Mo., in his young manhood and was baptized by Eld. McMahan. He was an excellent rifle shot and even enjoyed going hunting, especially for squirrel up until he got too old to longer get about.

An indication of the high esteem in which he was held could be seen in the very large turnout of neighbors and friends at his funeral and burial Sunday afternoon. Eld. Horn and Rev. J. B. Snider both paid warm hearted tributes to his memory. Special music was furnished by a male quartet consisting of E. L. Kissinger and Tom Mitchell, both of McKinney, and Elmer and Robert Parris, both of near Anna. Many beautiful floral offerings were sent in memory of this gallant old Confederate. The local Daughters of the Confederacy were also present in large numbers, providing a Confederate flag and otherwise assisting in the solemn funeral rites accorded by their organization to deceased veterans.

A. F. M'DONALD DIED MAR. 31 IN DALLAS

These editors were sorry to note the death of Prof. A. F. McDonald, former county school superintendent of Dallas county. He was a son of the late A. W. McDonald, veteran Wylie early settler and member of a prominent Southeast Collin family. The following notice of his death appeared in a Dallas paper:

Arthur Fleming McDonald, 59, former Dallas county school superintendent, died last Friday at his home, 5643 Vickery boulevard. March 31, at Dallas.

Mr. McDonald was born at Wylie and was a graduate of the North Texas State Teachers college, Denton. He was principal of the Vickery place school before that district joined the Dallas city school system. Before that he taught in the Wylie and Lavon schools in Collin county and the Hutchins school, Dallas county. His last employment was in the office of County Clerk Jack E. Fisher. He served as Dallas county school superintendent for one term, more than ten years ago.

Surviving him are his wife, one son, Orison McDonald, and a daughter, Miss Elaine McDonald, all of Dallas; three brothers, A. K. and S. M. McDonald of Wylie and L. B. McDonald of Houston, and a sister, Mrs. Sarah Mennis of Wylie.

Funeral services were held at 4 p. m. Saturday at the Ed C. Smith & Bros. chapel in Dallas by Dr. F. M. Richardson, presiding elder of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Burial was in Restland Memorial park.

W. B. Perkins, who lives on his pretty farm adjoining the Hill Crest Country club, two miles south of town, is advertising leading varieties of pecan buds for sale. Mr. Perkins is a veteran farmer, nurseryman and pecan grower. He understands budding and grafting and taking care of pecan trees and improving the varieties. He is also an expert fruit and berry grower. He is one of our county's most useful and dependable citizens. You can do no better than to get some choice pecan buds from him.

3 RULES
big help to BOWELS

What a joy to have the bowels move like clockwork, every day! It's easy, if you mind these simple rules of a famous old doctor:

1. Drink a big tumblerful of water before breakfast, and several times a day.
2. Get plenty of outdoor exercise without unduly fatiguing yourself.
3. Try for a bowel movement at exactly the same hour every day.

Everyone's bowels need help at times, but the thing to use is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You'll get a thorough cleaning-out, and it won't leave your insides weak and watery. This family doctor's prescription is just fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin, and other helpful ingredients that couldn't hurt a child. But how it wakes up those lazy bowels! How good you feel with your system rid of all that poisonous waste matter.

79 Years Young And Still Strong

Health is the reward to those who expect to fight when they are ill, and set out to get well by using their own common sense. It does not come to the person who says that there is no use to fight. Nature's aids to ailing persons are proper foods, fresh air, sunshine and good Mineral Water.

An example of this sort is shown in the story of a man who, nineteen years ago, was in very poor health. He was just about convinced that he was going to die because he had been so advised by people in whom he had much confidence. There was no treatment, he had been told, that would restore his health on account of the advanced stage of his ailment. He was sixty years old at that time and made up his mind that he was too young to die. He heard of Crazy Water. He gave it a trial. He took common sense treatment of Crazy Water, fresh air, sunshine, proper exercise, and proper diet. This man has not been sick for nineteen years and today the old gentleman is enjoying good health at the age of 79.

Your most precious possession is good health. Protect it. But if you have lost it—if you don't have your former vigor and pep, now is the time to check the cause. Nine to one you are troubled with faulty elimination—the most notorious of all health-thieves. Constipation allows the blood stream to be polluted with poisons that are the cause of nearly all common ailments, such as colitis, neuritis; rheumatism, liver and kidney disorders, nervous ailments, arthritis, auto intoxication, acidosis and others of similar nature. That is why thousands have been relieved in a natural, safe way by drinking Crazy Water. It's easy to use in your own home, too. Just add Crazy Water Crystals to your drinking water.

GEORGE COFFEY IS WOUNDED BY INTRUDER IN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Graves motored down to Dallas Monday morning to attend the bedside of the latter's cousin, G. A. Coffey, who is recovering in Baylor hospital from wounds inflicted early Sunday morning when he was shot by an unidentified intruder at his home in University Park.

Mr. Coffey, who is a son of the late Uncle Perry Coffey, former county commissioner, and who is secretary of the Fox-Coffey-Edge company, wholesale milliners, was awakened at the front door of his home. Getting up to investigate, he met a man in the hallway leading to the door. A volley of shots was fired from a large caliber pistol. One bullet took effect in Mr. Coffey's groin

Investigating officers, arriving at the scene shortly after the shooting, could find no trace of the intruder or any clues that might lead to his identity.

Mr. Coffey is widely known in local wholesale and business circles, being a director of the Dallas Wholesale Merchants' association and former president of that group. He has also been active in numerous civic enterprises.

Mr. Coffey is a native of this county, having been born at Westminster in Northeast Collin. His aged mother is still living.

M'KINNEY MAN BREAKS OUT OF SHERMAN LOCKUP

The second escape from the city jail in eight years was effected Tuesday night by a 28-year-old McKinney man. He escaped from the city barn here several days ago while working out a fine for vagrancy, but was later captured in McKinney and returned to jail here last Sunday by Grady Thompson, police chief.

The prisoner gained his liberty by climbing on top of a row of cells and breaking through to the flight of stairs leading to the second and third floors of the city hall. He escaped from the jail run-around, where he had been allowed to stay.—Sherman Democrat.

PASSING OF HERMAN SONNTAG AT FRISCO

The entire Frisco community was shocked and saddened Thursday when it became known that the spirit of Herman Sonntag had slipped away during the early hours of the morning. Mr. Sonntag had not been in his usual health since he fell from a cultivator, two weeks ago, but was able to be about his work until stricken suddenly with something like paralysis, while out milking Wednesday night.

Besides a wife, three children, Misses Gladys, Loveta and W. H. survive. There are also surviving two sisters and seven brothers as follows: Mrs. George Bryant, Dallas; Mrs. G. W. Antwiler, Frisco; H. A. and H. C. Sonntag of Meridian; P. O. Sonntag of Lewisville; L. C. Sonntag of Clinton, Oklahoma; E. W., C. W. and Godfried Sonntag of Frisco.

Funeral services were held at the Christian church Friday afternoon in charge of Rev. Granville Walker of Fort Worth, pastor, assisted by the Revs. W. C. Clement of Celina, D. W. Nicholas of Plano and T. H. McSpedden of Frisco. One of the largest crowds ever to gather in Frisco on such an occasion was present for the service. Burial was made at Bethel.

The poet said, "An honest man's the noblest work of God." The life of the deceased combined with honesty all the qualities that go to make an ideal husband and father, a devoted brother, a loyal church member, an upright, dependable citizen, a true friend and, above all, a pure and consecrated Christian. These things and more have been said over and over again about the life of Herman Sonntag. His family has sustained an irreparable loss. His community, his church and his friends are poorer for his going. His life will live on in the lives of those whom he has left behind, who are all better from having known him.

FAMILY FRUIT SUPPLY FROM ONLY HALF ACRE

Half an acre and $5 to $10 worth of vines and trees will give the average Texas farm family enough fruit for a year's supply, Texas A. & M. College specialists state. Until the orchard comes into bearing, the fruit needed for health in the diet may be obtained by raising at least 600 feet of rows of tomatoes and planting other garden fruits as rhubarb, watermelons and cantaloupes.

Farm fruit plots established or enlarged by 5,531 Texas farm families last year in co-operation with county or home demonstration agents averaged $17.50 return each in a bad freeze year. Only one-third of the trees and vines in these plots were in bearing and such plots when mature should yield about $50 worth of fruit yearly.

Thurman Derryberry, son of Mr and Mrs. L. L. Derryberry, who live on the old Major Buck farm, three miles southwest of McKinney, recently bought a choice young thoroughbred Jersey heifer from Isham H. Younger of this city. He is having it registered. Thurman and his brother, James F. Derryberry, both graduated from McKinney high school. The latter is now in his first year at the Texas A. & M. college. Both of these boys took the vocational agriculture course under Prof. Doe Rollins while in high school and both were members of one of County Farm Agent Jack McCullough's 4-H boys' clubs. Thurman is the owner of several other well bred Jersey heifers. He thinks this is a good time to get the foundation for a good herd of farm dairy cattle and we believe he is right.

In Memoriam.

At noon on Monday, March 27, 1933, Will S. Hitchcock quietly passed from this life into the life beyond. He had been in ill health for the past two years, but was only confined to his bed for the past five weeks, and gradually grew worse until the end. All that medical care and loving service from willing hands could do proved unavailing.

Mr. Hitchcock was born near Rome, Georgia, Sept. 29, 1878. His parents were J. B. and Jane Hitchcock, the family moved to Texas when he was a child. He grew to manhood near Altoga, Texas. He was united in marriage to Miss Mary Elizabeth Dunn, March 3, 1901, at Altoga by Rev. John Davis. To this union was bonr six boys: Roy Hitchcock of Gladewater, Virgil C. Hitchcock of Gladewater, Virgil C. Hitchcock of McKinney; Boyd, Floyd, Carl and Weldon, all at home.

Mr. Hitchcock united with the Melissa Christian church several years ago under the preaching of Rev. Leo Johnston and in which he lived a faithful member until the end came. He was not only a good Christian, he was a good and true friend to his fellowman, always ready to lend a helping hand in time of their needs and distress. He possessed a self-sacrificing devotion to his family that is rarely equalled, leaving in his home a sense of unutterable loss and loneliness that only the infinite grace of our Heavenly Father and the healing touch of time can make bearable.

The deceased was an esteemed and highly honored citizen of this community where he and his family has resided for more than twenty-five years. He is survived by his heartbroken wife and six sons as mentioned above. One daughter-in-law, Mrs. Roy Hitchcock and a sweet baby granddaughter, Mary Jane Hitchcock, aged only seven weeks. He is also survived by his aged mother, Mrs. J. B. Hitchcock who is ill and wasn't able to attend his funeral and the following brothers and sisters: J. L. Hitchcock of McKinney; J. T. Hitchcock of Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. John Kelley of Lula, Ga.; Mrs. J. W. Farley of Estelline, Texas, and Mrs. Ola George of Cottage Hill and a number of nieces and nephews. Brief funeral services were held at the home by his pastor, Brother A. L. Clinkenbeard, Mrs. F. W. Thompson and W. P. Morgan sang, "Asleep in Jesus." After prayer the funeral cortege with Massie & Son funeral directors wended its way to Altoga, where funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. L. Clinkbeard, pastor of Melissa Christian church and Methodist church at Chambersville and Melissa. Mrs. Thompson and Mr. Morgan sang a favorite song of the deceased, "Who Will Sing for Me," at the request of the family, after which the remains were laid to rest beneath the flower covered mound in the Altoga cemetery.

Active pallbearers were S. T. Jordan, Homer Haynes, Albert Dickerson, R. L. Hume, W. O. Herron, T. J. Thompson.

Honorary were his friends.

He will be sadly missed in the social and religious circles and his place will be hard to fill. May God's assuring grace be felt in the lives of each of his sorrowing ones.

Out of town relatives who attended the funeral were: Mrs. J. I. Dunn and daughter, Hazel and son, Lowell of Tioga; Mrs. J. C. Dunn, Mrs. Hattie Goodloe, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hazzard of Red Oak; Ernest Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Brannon, Mrs. W. T. Dunn, Mrs. Fanny Farley, Mrs. Glenn Dunn of Dallas; Mrs. Jewel Everidge and daughters, Mildred and Marie of Sherman, Eber Hitchcock of Corsicana; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Forsyth, Miss Ruth Hitchcock of Dallas; J. T. Hitchcock and son, Fred, of Kansas City; Levi Dunn and family of Weston.

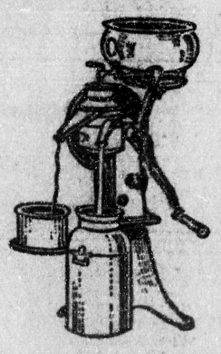
WE Say, "Come In and See for Yourself"

Saturday, April 15th

IT sounds impossible to prepare a butter-fat spread without churning, but actually it is as easy as running milk through your cream separator. As a matter of fact, that is exactly how De Laval Home Dairy Spread is made. The milk, warm from the cows or heated to 100 degrees, is run through a De Laval Separator equipped with two special inexpensive parts. The cream testing from 60% to 75% is then salted to taste and set in a cool place. At 56 degrees it solidifies to about the same consistency as butter. It is so nearly like butter in flavor, appearance and composition that few can tell the difference. There is no churning. Everyone can have fresh butter-fat spread now, easily and economically.



See us make De Laval Home Dairy Spread and taste it yourself. See place and date above. This will be an interesting demonstration. Don't miss it.

De Laval Home Dairy Spread Is Butter-fat Direct from the Separator and Ready for Use without Churning.
